

Notice of Data Security Incident

UPDATED: MARCH 31, 2025

One of our top priorities is the safety and security of our community, including protecting the personal data we maintain. While Health Services LLC d/b/a Miracle Ear utilizes robust security protocols, unfortunately, we recently detected potential unauthorized access to certain systems. Upon identifying this activity, we promptly launched an investigation into the incident to evaluate and ensure the security of our systems. As part of the investigation, we engaged leading third-party cybersecurity professionals experienced in handling these types of incidents. Although we have no evidence of financial fraud or identity theft related to this data, in accordance with applicable law, we are making potentially affected individuals aware of the incident, resources, and steps that they may take to protect their personal or protected health information, should they feel it appropriate to do so.

What Happened?

Our operations were not impacted, however, because we determined that this incident involved limited personal or protected health information that was stored on a server that was subject to unauthorized access and from approximately January 2, 2025 to January 28, 2025, we are conducting a comprehensive review of the data to identify potentially affected individuals.

What Information Was Involved

The affected information may have included name, contact information (such as phone number, email address, and postal address), date of birth, driver's license number, Social Security number, patient ID, medical treatment or diagnosis, or health insurance information (such as insurance policy number or subscriber identification number, claims history, or appeal records). The types of impacted information varied by individual. Our review of the impacted data is ongoing, but at this time, we have no indication that payment information was involved.

What We Are Doing

As mentioned above, we promptly launched an investigation in consultation with cybersecurity support to assist with containing the incident, help ensure the security of our systems, and determine the nature and scope of the incident. We continually evaluate and modify our practices and internal controls to enhance the security and privacy of the information we maintain.

We are issuing this notice to provide potentially affected individuals with information about the incident, resources, and services to help protect your personal information.

What You Can Do

Outlined below, we have provided precautionary measures individuals can take to protect their personal information, including placing a Fraud Alert and Security Freeze on your credit files, and obtaining a free credit report. We also encourage individuals to remain vigilant against incidents of identity theft and fraud, review their account statements, and monitor their free credit reports to detect errors or identify suspicious activity.

We value the trust and loyalty of our community and we share in any frustration this incident may cause. We have established a toll-free call center to support our community with any further questions regarding this incident, please call our dedicated assistance line at 800-232-3154, Monday through Friday, 7:00 am-4:00 pm Mountain Time.

– OTHER IMPORTANT INFORMATION –

Placing a Fraud Alert on Your Credit File.

You may place an initial one (1) year “Fraud Alert” on your credit files, at no charge. A fraud alert tells creditors to contact you personally before they open any new accounts. To place a fraud alert, call any one of the three major credit bureaus at the numbers listed below. As soon as one credit bureau confirms your fraud alert, they will notify the others.

Equifax

P.O. Box 105069
Atlanta, GA 30348-5069
<https://www.equifax.com/personal/credit-report-services/credit-fraud-alerts/>
(800) 525-6285

Experian

P.O. Box 9554
Allen, TX 75013
<https://www.experian.com/fraud/center.html>
(888) 397-3742

TransUnion

Fraud Victim Assistance Department
P.O. Box 2000
Chester, PA 19016-2000
<https://www.transunion.com/fraud-alerts>
(800) 680-7289

Placing a Security Freeze on Your Credit File.

You may also place a “Security Freeze” on your credit file, at no charge. A security freeze prohibits, with certain exceptions, the consumer reporting agencies from releasing any information from your credit report without your written authorization. For more information on security freezes, contact the nationwide credit reporting agencies using the contact information below:

Equifax Security Freeze

P.O. Box 105788
Atlanta, GA 30348-5788
<https://www.equifax.com/personal/credit-report-services/credit-freeze/>
(888) 298-0045

Experian Security Freeze

P.O. Box 9554
Allen, TX 75013
<http://experian.com/freeze>
(888) 397-3742

TransUnion Security Freeze

P.O. Box 160
Woodlyn, PA 19094
<https://www.transunion.com/credit-freeze>
(888) 909-8872

In order to place the security freeze, you’ll need to supply your name, address, date of birth, Social Security number and other personal information. After receiving your freeze request, each credit reporting agency will send you a confirmation letter containing a unique PIN (personal identification number) or password. Keep the PIN or password in a safe place. You will need it if you choose to lift the freeze.

If you do place a security freeze prior to enrolling in the credit monitoring service as described above, you will need to remove the freeze in order to sign up for the credit monitoring service. After you sign up for the credit monitoring service, you may refreeze your credit file.

Obtaining a Free Credit Report.

Under federal law, you are entitled to one free credit report every 12 months from each of the above three major nationwide credit reporting agencies. Call 1-877-322-8228 or request your free credit reports online at www.annualcreditreport.com. Once you receive your credit reports, review them for discrepancies, such as accounts you did not open or inquiries from creditors that you did not authorize, and verify all information is correct. If you have questions or notice incorrect information, contact the credit reporting agency.

Additional Helpful Resources.

Even if you do not find any suspicious activity on your initial credit reports, the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) recommends that you check your credit reports periodically. Checking your credit report periodically can help you spot problems and address them.

If you find suspicious activity on your credit reports or have reason to believe your information is being misused, such as to file a false tax return, to open an account or to attempt to open an account in your name or to commit fraud or other crimes against you, call your local law enforcement agency and file a police report. Be sure to obtain a copy of the police report to provide to creditors should you need to contest fraudulent activity.

You may also file a complaint with the FTC by contacting them on the web at www.ftc.gov/idtheft, by phone at 1-877-IDTHEFT (1-877-438-4338), or by mail at Federal Trade Commission, Consumer Response Center, 600 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW, Washington, DC 20580. Your complaint will be added to the FTC's Identity Theft Data Clearinghouse, where it will be accessible to law enforcement for their investigations. In addition, you may obtain information from the FTC about fraud alerts and security freezes.

If your financial account information and/or credit or debit card information was impacted, we recommend that you contact your financial institution to inquire about steps to take to protect your account, including whether you should close your account or obtain a new account number.

Protecting Your Medical Information.

The following practices can provide additional safeguards to protect against medical identity theft.

- Only share your health insurance cards with your health care providers and other family members who are covered under your insurance plan or who help you with your medical care.
- Review your "explanation of benefits statement" which you receive from your health insurance company. Follow up with your insurance company or care provider for any items you do not recognize. If necessary, contact the care provider on the explanation of benefits statement and ask for copies of medical records from the date of the potential access (noted above) to current date.
- Ask your insurance company for a current year-to-date report of all services paid for you as a beneficiary. Follow up with your insurance company or the care provider for any items you do not recognize.

New Mexico Residents: You have rights under the federal Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA). These include, among others, the right to know what is in your file; to dispute incomplete or inaccurate information; and to have consumer reporting agencies correct or delete inaccurate, incomplete, or unverifiable information. For more information about the FCRA, please visit www.consumer.ftc.gov/articles/pdf-0096-fair-credit-reporting-act.pdf or www.ftc.gov.

In Addition, New Mexico Consumers Have the Right to Obtain a Security Freeze or Submit a Declaration of Removal

As noted above, you may obtain a security freeze on your credit report to protect your privacy and help ensure that credit is not granted in your name without your knowledge. You may submit a declaration of removal to remove information placed in your credit report as a result of being a victim of identity theft. You have a right to place a security freeze on your credit report or submit a declaration of removal pursuant to the Fair Credit Reporting and Identity Security Act.

When you place a security freeze on your credit report, you will be provided with a personal identification number, password, or similar device to use if you choose to remove the freeze on your credit report or to temporarily authorize the release of your credit report to a specific party or parties or for a specific period of time after the freeze is in place. To remove the freeze or to provide authorization for the temporary release of your credit report, you must contact the consumer reporting agency and provide all of the following:

1. The unique personal identification number, password, or similar device provided by the consumer reporting agency;
2. Proper identification to verify your identity; and
3. Information regarding the third party or parties who are to receive the credit report or the period of time for which the credit report may be released to users of the credit report.

A security freeze does not apply in all circumstances, such as where you have an existing account relationship and a copy of your credit report is requested by your existing creditor or its agents for certain types of account review, collection, fraud control, or similar activities; for use in setting or adjusting an insurance rate or claim or insurance underwriting; for certain governmental purposes; and for purposes of prescreening as defined in the federal Fair Credit Reporting Act.

To place a security freeze on your credit report, you must send a request to each of the three major consumer reporting agencies: Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. You may contact these agencies using the contact information provided above.

Website Notice

Rhode Island Residents: You may contact law enforcement, such as the Rhode Island Attorney General's Office, to report incidents of identity theft or to learn about steps you can take to protect yourself from identity theft. You can contact the Rhode Island Attorney General at: Rhode Island Office of the Attorney General, 150 South Main Street, Providence, RI 02903, www.riag.ri.gov, 401-274-4400.

As noted above, you may obtain a security freeze on your credit report to protect your privacy and ensure that credit is not granted in your name without your knowledge. You have a right to place a "security freeze" on your credit report pursuant to chapter 48 of title 6 of the Identity Theft Prevention Act of 2006.

When you place a security freeze on your credit report, within five (5) business days you will be provided a personal identification number or password to use if you choose to remove the freeze on your credit report or to temporarily authorize the release of your credit report for a specific period of time after the freeze is in place. To provide that authorization, you must contact the consumer reporting agency and provide all of the following:

1. The unique personal identification number or password provided by the consumer reporting agency.
2. Proper identification to verify your identity.
3. The proper information regarding the period of time for which the report shall be available to users of the credit report.

A security freeze does not apply to circumstances where you have an existing account relationship and a copy of your report is requested by your existing creditor or its agents or affiliates for certain types of an account review, collection, fraud control, or similar activities.

To place a security freeze on your credit report, you must send a request to each of the three major consumer reporting agencies: Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. These agencies can be contacted using the contact information provided above.

In order to request a security freeze, you may need to provide the following information:

1. Your full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Complete address;
5. Prior addresses;
6. Proof(s) of identification (state driver's license or ID card, military identification, birth certificate, etc.);
7. If you are a victim of identity theft, a copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft.
